FOR HOMESTEADERS

A Strong Appeal in Their Behalf
Made in the Senate.

FLORIDA RAILROAD GRANTS.

An Old Subject in Past Congresses Revived in the Present One—The Federal Elections Bill Debated—Only One Amendment to the Tariff Bill Adopted in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The session of the senate was devoted to a discussion of Senator Call's public land resolution and a general colloquy over the federal elections bill. A strong appeal was made by Senator Call in favor of the homesteaders of Florida, who he alleged were being deprived of their rights by land grant railroads without authority of law, and he finally succeeded in having his resolution referred to the judiciary committee for a careful inquiry into the legal rights of the question.

Senator Chandler made an effort to have the bill repealing the federal election laws postponed until next December, but the motion was, of course, promptly defeated by the Democrats on a rollcall.

Senator Wolcott, from the committee on library, reported to the senate the following resolution, which was adopted:

RESOLVED, That the offer of Mrs. Anna Shaw Curtis, widow of George William Curtis, of the marble bust of Charles Sumner, be accepted, and the committee on library directed to convey to Mrs. Curtis the obligations of the senate for said gift.

The resolution of Senator Call questioning the validity of railroad grants in the state of Florida was taken up, and Senator Call spoke at length in support of the resolution and in defense of the rights of homestead settlers.

Senator Dolph said the question raised by Senator Call had been decided adversely to the senator from Florida by five secretaries of the interior, and has been regularly introduced in the senate every congress for years past, and that the committee on public lands had usually decided that the matter was no longer in the control of congress.

After further discussion the resolution was referred to the committee on judiciary.

At 2 o'clock the Hawaiian resolutions by request of Senator Turpie (Dem., Ind.) went over without prejudice.

The election bill came up in the regular order of unfinished business. The pending amendment was the one presented by Senator Chandler, allowing every candidate for congress the right to name a personal "watcher" in each election precinct to inspect the registration of votes and be present at the counting of ballots, and the certifying of the ballots.

Senator Chandler took occasion to renew his suggestion that the bill go over until next December and give the election law one more chance.

At this juncture Senator Dolph (Rep., Or.) introduced, in order that it might be printed, an amendment to the Hawaiian resolution, declaring that "with a view to restoring amicable relations between the United States and Hawaii, the present minister of the United States to Hawaii should be recalled immediately."

The roll was then called on Senator Chandler's motion to postpone the election bill until next December, and it was defeated, 20 to 28.

The question then recurred once more on Senator Chandler's amendment, providing for one "watcher" at the polls. After a brief discussion of the amendment by Senator Chandler the senate went into executive session and at 3:40 adjourned until Monday next.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The only amendment to the tariff bill adopted by the house yesterday was one increasing the duty on cut stones, unset, to 30 per cent ad valorem and taking rough, uncut stones from the free list and placing them on the dutiable list at 15 per cent ad valorem. The ways and means committee, which desired to reduce the duty on cut stones from 15 to 10 per cent, was overruled in this matter.

An attempt to place titplate on the free list was unsuccessful. There was yesterday, as on the two preceding days, considerable open plain-spoken opposition to the bill on the Democratic side.

The lumber scale was then taken up and debated until the hour of adjournment. No action was taken.

THE WIDOW WORSTED.

A Dakota Will Case of Rather Interesting Phase.

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 27.—The will of F. Adams has been admitted by Judge Roberts to probate, and the bonds were fixed at $1,000. This decision settles a hotly contested case. Adams was several years ago a manufacturer of New York city. He failed with heavy liabilities, and by his failure Charles T. Sutton, another New York manufacturer, was a heavy loser through money loaned. Later Adams came west, invested in North Dakota dirt, and became wealthy. Six months ago Adams was found dead in bed. He had made a will leaving all his property to Sutton, with the provision that Sutton, after deducting the amount of his claim, was to turn balance over to Adams' lawful wife, Mrs. Caroline R. Topliffe of Seattle, Wash., wife of the deceased, contested the will, alleging that undue influence was exercised by Sutton and that it was his intention to secure and hold possession of the entire property. George M. Brooks of New York, who drew up his will, appeared for his client. The decision gives Sutton possession of Adams' estate.

KENTUCKY'S NEW STATEHOUSE.

Personnel of the Commission and Restrictions Imposed.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27.—The subcommittee, consisting of Senator Stephenon and Representatives White and Gibson, will report to the joint committee on public offices and library in favor of a bill to be originated by the committee proposing an appropriation of $1,000,000 for a new capitol building, the amount to be expended in six annual installments—$100,000 for the first year, $200,000 for four years and $100,000 for the last year.

The commissioners agreed on are: Mr. B. W. Heldman of Louisville, Hon. John L. Helm of Hardin county, Hon. James F. Clay of Henderson, Hon. John W. Caldwell of Russellville, Judge R. P. Jacob of Danville and Dr. E. E. Hume and General S. D. Lindsey of this city. The bill will place but one restriction upon the commissioners, but that is an important one, and in effect settles the question of selecting some other site in the city for the location of the proposed new buildings.

STAMPEDE IN A COURTROOM.

Wounded Woman's Husband Tries to Kill Her Assailant.

MOUNT VERNON, Ky., Jan. 27.—During the examining trial of Bill Newcomb for shooting his sister-in-law with an old musket, some days ago, Mat Burke, the wounded woman's husband, drew a revolver and opened fire on the prisoner.

There was a wild stampede among the spectators. Officers soon disarmed Burke, and found that Newcomb sustained no damage from the flying balls more than a few holes through his clothing.

The shooter was placed in charge of an officer, and he later gave bond. At the conclusion of Newcomb's trial, as he was being taken back to jail, he espied Burke as they were leaving the courthouse. He made a grab for him and dealt him a fist blow on the neck, which put him to sleep for half an hour.

Newcomb was held to the grand jury in the case for shooting.

On Trial For Embezzlement.

KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 27.—The trial of Calvin Armstrong, deputy treasurer of Tipton county, is being held here before Judge Kirkpatrick. When Armstrong vacated the office last September he was $43,700 short in his accounts. His father, J. K. Armstrong, was treasurer, and was given a year in the penitentiary for failure to turn over the funds to his successor. Calvin, his son, was indicted for embezzlement, for his term expired, and in default of $20,000 bail was sent to jail to await trial.

Natural Gas Pipes Leaked.

RIDGEVILLE, Ind., Jan. 27.—Ever since this cold weather began the natural gas has acted badly. Yesterday the wife of Professor Watson lighted a match to start a fire in the cook stove. The room was full of the gas that had escaped during the night, and the consequence was a terrific explosion, in which Mrs. Watson was terribly burned. The windows were blown out and the house was set on fire. Near neighbors were at the scene in a moment and succeeded in stopping the fire and probably saving the life of Mrs. Watson, whose dress was on fire when they reached the house.

Confederate Money in Circulation.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Jan. 27.—Charles Hathaway of Chesterton obtained a supply of confederate money, with which he visited the saloon of Henry Teek, at Porter, and passed a $10 bill on one of Teek's children. He next went to a meat market in charge of a boy, who gave him two $1 bills for a confederate $10 dollar bill. Liverynan Winnemar also changed one of the bills. The fraud was discovered in the evening and Hathaway was arrested, but he managed to elude his captors before he could be brought to this city.

New Trial Granted.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 27.—Isaac N. Dawson of this city, convicted in the Circuit court six weeks ago of setting fire to the barn of his father-in-law, William Eads, has been granted a new trial, the judge holding that the evidence adduced on the first trial was insufficient to warrant conviction. The feeling among the people of this city, where Dawson bears an excellent reputation, is one of satisfaction over the ruling of Judge Custer giving him another trial.

Renovated the Premises.

LA PORTE, Ind., Jan. 27.—With the mercury below zero, a family named Tongnet, living near New Carlisle, was visited by a vigilance committee composed of women of the neighborhood. The family had been living in squalor, and the work of the committee was systematically conducted. The inmates were compelled to disrobe while their visitors made use of liberal quantities of water and soap. The renovating of the premises was complete.

One Thousand Barrels Daily.

PORTLAND, Ind., Jan. 27.—One of the largest strikes in oil that has been made in Indiana is on the Wesley Watson farm, three miles northeast of Mills Corner, and just over the line in Adams county. A well has just drilled in there which is flowing 1,000 barrels daily. It is the seventh one on the farm. On the other six Mr. Watson has been realizing $400 a month for his share of the oil, and this last gusher will largely increase his income.

Injured in an Elevator.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 27.—The baggage elevator in the Orms hotel fell from the sixth story to the basement. The occupants were Maggie Barkley, Maggie Slim and Alma Seymour, chambermaids, and Charles Woods, elevator man. All suffered numerous broken bones and internal injuries and will probably die.

HOPES FULLFILLED.

Business Industries Rapidly Recovering Everywhere.

DUE TO EXPECTED BOND ISSUE.

Anxiety Checked and Confidence Restored in the Redemption of Notes—Financial Matters in a Satisfactory State—Closed Factories Resuming—Textile Industries Busy—Larger Sales of Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Secretary Carlisle's decision to issue bonds, and the early reports of large bids for them, helped to accelerate recovery of industries and trade, as was hoped last week. Sale of the amount offered will check anxiety about maintenance of note redemption, remove the only pretext for further issues of paper, and thus give a solid basis for greater confidence regarding the financial future.

The commissioners agreed on are: Mr. B. W. Heldman of Louisville, Hon. John L. Helm of Hardin county, Hon. James F. Clay of Henderson, Hon. John W. Caldwell of Russellville, Judge R. P. Jacob of Danville and Dr. E. E. Hume and General S. D. Lindsey of this city. The bill will place but one restriction upon the commissioners, but that is an important one, and in effect settles the question of selecting some other site in the city for the location of the proposed new buildings.

RECEIVER UPHELD.

The Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City Reduction Case Decided.

TOLEDO, Jan. 26.—Judge Ricks of the federal circuit rendered a decision in the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City case. Receiver Calloway, recently issued an order reducing wages of all employees. A committee representing 525 employees concerned filed an application in the circuit court asking that the receiver's order be set aside. Judge Ricks required Receiver Calloway to answer, who signed the decrease in the earnings of the road as necessitating the reduction in wages.

In his opinion Judge Ricks recognizes the right of the employees to petition court for the redress of grievances they may have against the receiver. He believes that the reduction of wages was a necessity, as the court and the receiver owe a duty to the creditors of the road as well as to its employees, and therefore declines to interfere to set aside the receiver's order.

CLEVER CAPTURE.

Three of the Most Noted Safe Blowers in the Country Run In.

TOLEDO, Jan. 27.—John Flavel, alias "Johnny the Rat," Charles Proctor and Henry Jackson, three of the most notorious safe blowers in the United States, who have served time in half a dozen penitentiaries, and for whom the police of many cities are looking, were arrested by local detectives on a Michigan Central train at 11:30 last night.

They were recognized as they stepped on the train at Detroit by an ex-Toledo detective and the information wired here. Local officers boarded the train at a suburban station and found Proctor and Jackson asleep. An attempt was made to handcuff the pair before they awoke, but Flavel gave the alarm and a lively fight ensued. A full kit of tools, including nitroglycerin and revolvers, was found in Flavel's satchel. The trio are wanted in Cleveland, Detroit and other cities.

Deliberate Suicide.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 27.—Livingston Fleming, a farmer, aged 22, living at Fleming station, committed suicide. Just after supper he went out on the porch and fired a rifle so that it could be fired by pulling a string. He placed the muzzle to his left temple and pulled the string, sending the bullet crashing through his brain. Death came instantly. He had been married but six weeks. No cause can be assigned for the deed.

Election Contest Finally Decided.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Jan. 27.—The Indiana supreme court has affirmed the decision of the Porter circuit court in the contested election case of Joseph Sego vs. Heber Stoddard. Two years ago Stoddard was the Republican, and Sego the Democratic candidate for sheriff in this county. Stoddard received three more votes than Sego. The Democrats contested the election, which was decided in Stoddard's favor.

An Insurance Company's Loss.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 27.—The large 3-story block owned by Joseph Gobel, cashier of the First National bank, and Henry Gobel, was gutted by fire yesterday. The losses are: Building damaged $1,000; Frank Kuntz, groceries and notions, $2,000; M. H. Armbold, clothing, $1,000; the transfer company's household goods, $1,000. The losses are fully insured.

Railroad Superintendent Resigns.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—It is announced here that General Superintendent W. H. Canniff of the Lake Shore railroad has resigned. The supposed cause was the fact that President Newell declined to approve his appointment of Freight Agent Murphy as the successor of Paymaster T. S. Lindsay, who recently retired. Cashier Sheldon was made paymaster.

Attempted Suicide on a Train.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 27.—Edward Brennan, a one-armed telegraph operator, formerly of this city, but lately located at Clifton Forge, W. Va., attempted suicide near Ashland, Ky., on the Chesapeake and Ohio Cincinnati express by taking laudanum. He will recover.

THERE are already two entries for the approaching free-for-all race for the Governorship—Hon. C. M. Clay and Hon. P. Wat Hardin. Other's are being groomed, and the fight will be a lively one from start to finish. May the best man win.

"SCIENTIFIC BRUTALITY," is what a Cincinnati minister characterizes prize-fighting. The Commercial Gazette in its account of the Jacksonville affair says the sound of the blows Corbett showered on Mitchell was "sickening." If that wasn't brutality what would you call it?

THE Lexington correspondent of the Commercial Gazette is way-off when he says that the first colored applicants for teachers' certificates "ever examined in Kentucky" were examined there Thursday. Regular examinations for colored teachers have been held in Mason County for years.

THE New York Times has been investigating the business outlook in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut and finds evident improvement everywhere. Fires are being lighted in idle mills and factories, markets are improving and prospects are brighter than at any time within a year.

"PROTECTION" RUN MAD.

It is going the rounds of the papers that the village council of London, Madison County, is about to enact an ordinance prohibiting attorneys, not residents of Madison County, from practicing law in the courts of that county, without a license, said license to cost $50 per day, and that at McArthur, they are talking of prohibiting, by ordinance, ministers, not residents of that county, from exchanging pulpits with local ministers. This is the logical sequence of McKinleyism, as nonsensical as it appears. The "protection" of the legal lunkheads of Madison County from the able attorneys who surround them is necessary to "encourage home talent" and build up a market for pettifogging. And further, as McKinley says, the "foreign" attorney pays the tax. See? He goes to London, puts in about $50 and pays $50 for the privilege. He doesn't charge it up to his client. Oh, no—not at all. By this means the client gets his attorney's services for nothing, the town gets the tax and pettifoggers the protection. See? You don't? You must be an infernal chucklehead. Haven't you read McKinley's speech before the "Home Margaret Club" of Boston? Georgetown (O.) News-Democrat

The new Medical Practice law in this State is akin to McKinleyism. Its object is to shut out the so-called "quack" and protect the home doctors from competition. It is absolutely prohibitory.

GOOD TIMES COMING.

A Millionaire Manufacturer Says Business is Fast Improving—Cause of the Depression.

MUNCIE, IND.—Colonel A. L. Conger, the (Republican) millionaire manufacturer of Ohio, was in Muncie looking after his large manufacturing interests here. In an interview as to the prospects for manufacturers, especially the iron industry, the Colonel said: "Business is fast improving throughout the country since the first of the year and confidence is being restored."

"The old stock of the mills and factories throughout the country is fast being consumed and the mills are now getting started on a better basis than at any time for years past. In a short time I predict that the wheels will again be moving and a season of prosperity will return."

He did not speak of the Wilson bill but intimated that the general over-production was in the main the cause of the great depression in manufacturing.

Muncie has eight glass factories and nine iron and steel industries working full time, with the Whitely Malleable Iron Works and Muncie Iron and Steel Works about ready to start.

REFORM SCHOOLS.

A Bill Providing For Their Erection Pending in the State Senate.
Other News.

A bill was introduced in the State Senate Thursday providing for the establishment of two State reformatory institutions, one for girls and one for boys. The bill originated in the Committee on Charitable Institutions and is intended to carry out the suggestions contained in the Governor's message and provisions of the Constitution on this important subject. The act carries an appropriation of $1,000,000, and recommends the adoption of the cottage plan of construction and management. The selection of sites, erection of buildings and ultimate management of the institutions are placed in keeping of a non-political, non-sectarian Board of five Commissioners to be named by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

That something will be done at this session looking to an early completion of reformatory establishments is probable, but it is not probable that any bill carrying large appropriations for this or other purposes will find favor.

In the House, the bill giving to medical colleges all unclaimed bodies was passed.

The matter of new Capitol buildings is receiving much attention, but all suggestions of appropriations meet with discouragement. The suggestion of Representative Beckner, of Clark, finds much favor among the members. His idea is that there shall be no attempt at a settlement of the question now, but that a commission of prominent gentlemen be named, who shall locate the site, receive plans, specifications and estimates, visit other Capitols for purposes of comparison, and after giving the subject careful, business-like investigation report back a bill covering all points, location, plans and cost.

The K. of P.'s Wonderful Growth.

On the 19th of February the order of Knights of Pythias will be thirty years old. From a nucleus of five members thirty years ago it now has nearly 6,000 subordinate lodges, with more than 450,000 active and loyal adherents; over 1,200 divisions of the Uniform Rank, with 50,000 uniformed followers, and about 1,800 sections of the endowment rank, carry over $70,000,000 of insurance within the ranks.

HOW THEY STAND.

Kentucky Congressmen on the Income Tax Proposition.

The income tax feature is not harassing the Kentucky Representatives with the exception of Caruth and Adams, says a special. The delegation is solid in favor of it. Caruth says if it is tacked on to the Wilson bill, he would vote for it. "I do not believe in endangering the bill. In theory I am in favor of an income tax, but practically I am against it."

Mr. McCreary—"I am in favor of putting the revenue bill on the tariff. The same bill which reduces revenue should provide for the deficit. I will vote for the income tax bill in whatever form it comes before the House."

Col. Stone—"I think the bill will go to the Senate stronger without the income feature to it, but I will vote to put it on as an amendment or vote for it separately."

Representative Ellis—"I will vote for the income tax in any form."

Representative Goodnight—"I favor the income tax and prefer it as an amendment to the bill."

Representative Adams will vote as the Republicans do.

Judge Montgomery is already on record as voting for it in committee.

A Call to the Citizens of Maysville.

The Associated Charity funds are getting very low. There are many calls from needy families for help, and unless the treasury is replenished much suffering will necessarily follow before the winter is over.

The committee has done faithful work in investigating the applications for help and in distributing to the needy. Most of the calls are for provisions. Contributions in money are the most advantageous. They can be made at the BULLETIN office, or to the President and Secretary of the charity fund.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by Mr. George W. Blatterman, County Superintendent.

WOODWARD—DISTRICT NO. 11.

To reach this school house is like swinging around the circle. You skirt the western boundary of Mason and cross over the line into Bracken, the Superintendent keeping a sharp lookout for "Tanglewood," which he finds when he is again across the line and in Mason. Before reaching the school house two miles distant we were attracted to the hospitable home of Mr. J. Hanson, where we were kindly received and furnished with dinner for man and horse. A rest here was welcome, for the journey was long and the day intensely hot. Mr. Hanson, Isaac Disher and Wesley Woodward are trustees of this district, and they discharge their duties faithfully. Miss Bettie Sherbon is the teacher, and she has taught this school two years very satisfactorily. Although young she manages her school with skill, and she evidently had the respect and love of her scholars. The recitations were very good and the deportment of the scholars worthy of praise.

GERMANTOWN.

Retracing our steps we could not resist the inclination to stop in Germantown and visit the district school, under the charge of Mr. Curry and estimable wife. This school is not within our jurisdiction, being just a few yards over the Mason County line, but I never see it, but I have longing to have it within the Mason County line, for it is one of the most elegant school houses—a large, roomy, two-story, building, surrounded by a beautiful lawn. Of course we were here by courtesy, and not by authority, as we are when in our own county. Mason furnishes seventy-six scholars to this school, so it might be almost included as ours, but the Superintendent's authority in his own county over teachers more than scholars, but he is clothed with ample authority over both. Mr. Curry—Professor is obsolete—enjoys a reputation as an instructor, and is worthy of it. The scholarship of the pupils is very satisfactory and the curriculum embraces many branches beyond the public school course.

Just across the line again in Mason is colored district No. 104, taught by Miss Simms, with her sister as assistant. They are both well qualified and experienced. The house was packed and squeezed, and the difficulty experienced by the teachers in teaching so many scholars in one room is indescribable. They made favorable impression as to their ability in the conduct of the school, notwithstanding the existing inconvenience. The house stands upon sacred ground, being upon the church lot and immediately in the rear of the church, which furnishes a grand object lesson to the children who thus have the sanctuary continually before the eyes, with the additional advantage of hearing the pious ejaculations which at certain seasons issue from the sacred temple. I could not inquire how many had "joined" the church, but the probability is that all of them will, and thus their religious, moral, intellectual and vocal education will be complete.

THE FIRE FIEND

Pays Another Visit to Mt. Olivet, the County Seat of Robertson.

Sparks Hotel and Many Other Buildings Burned—One Fourth of the Town Destroyed.

The fire fiend paid another visit to Mt. Olivet early this morning, and left a big part of the town in ashes.

The fire started in Sparks' Hotel, formerly the Carpenter House, about 3:30 o'clock, and soon spread to adjoining buildings.

The hotel, Wheeler's new store and Linville's store were among the buildings destroyed. Newman's store was greatly damaged, and the new M. E. Church was scorched.

The telephone office was burned out, and communication with the town was cut off.

The town has to rely upon the bucket brigade for fire protection, and the citizens were ill prepared to fight the flames in the freezing weather.

The fire started from a defective flue in the Sparks Hotel.

Later information places the loss at $25,000, with only $6,000 insurance.

E. M. Newman, dealer in agricultural implements; house destroyed; goods saved.

D. M. Reveal's millinery store was destroyed.

The Linville and Chandler block, three houses; all destroyed.

M. E. Church, cupola burned off; building damaged.

Wheeler Bros.' business house destroyed. It was occupied by Thomas Ogden as a clothing, boot and shoe store. He saved his goods.

The K. of P. lodge lost everything but its charter.

The citizens never worked harder. Mr. Burns Trigg lead the bucket brigade. When the bus left he was on the roof of the M. E. Church, with coat and shoes off, working to save the building.

The individual losses and insurance were not ascertained.

Uncle Tom

Men may come and men may go but Uncle Tom's Cabin is always sure of a welcome. The play can hardly grow old, for its theme is a thrilling one, its fame universal, and the new theatre-goers are constantly growing up, whose dramatic education would not be complete without having witnessed the time honored work.

The arrangement of the play is one of the best ever seen here, and the scenic effects were all that could be desired.—Boston Globe.

Ed. F. Davis' colossal spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will appear at opera house Monday, January, 29th.

I HAVE just bought for cash a traveling man's stock of gold and gold-filled ladies' and gents' gold watches. These goods must go at any price. Now is a grand opportunity to get a good watch cheap. P. J. Murphy, successor to Hopper & Murphy.

MISS ELIZABETH BRYANT JOHNSTONE takes this opportunity to thank Stewart's Orchestra, Miss Lida Berry, Mrs. Robert Cummins and the newspapers for their kindness and assistance in connection with her reading last Thursday night. No people could be kinder—"none so true as old friends."

THE Disciples of Christ meet for worship and the proclamation of the gospel to-morrow at 10:45 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Y. P. C. E. at 6:15 p. m. Morning theme, "Jesus the Christ a Great Preacher! Wherein Was He a Great Preacher?" Night theme, "Jesus the Christ's Object as a Great Preacher." You are invited to worship with us and to hear the message we bring you. We have aired it, disinfected it, and shook the mold of human inventions from it, and present it as reported by eye and ear witnesses.

E. B. CAKE, minister.

One of the pretty girls in the chorus of the company which is to sing that popular comic opera "The Little Tycoon" at the opera house on the night of Tuesday, January 30th, is Miss Lucy Pixley, a sister of that widely known and extremely popular Miss Annie Pixley. Miss Lucy Pixley is said to have declined several offers made by her sister to adopt the dramatic stage as a profession, and to be a member of her company, claiming that she believes the operatic stage is the proper field for her efforts and adding that she prefers to begin in this humble capacity and progress herself by her own ability and not by the fortune of family favor. Independence of this striking nature is out of the ordinary.

THE interest at Mitchell Chapel is still increasing. One conversion last night and conviction on the audience. Don't forget children's service this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject for to-morrow 10:30 a. m., "Watchman, What of the Night?" "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus," will be text for to-morrow evening.

YOUNG and old men who wish good reading matter and a warm cheerful place in which to read, should go to the Y. M. C. A. room Sunday afternoon. At 3 o'clock the men's meeting will be held, which will add interest and happiness to your stay. Short, spicy talks, good singing and a spiritual feast to feed your soul. "This is a grand institution" says one connected with it, "bringing up boys so that not only the church is helped, but strengthening them in all things the better to fight against evil and vice. If you want this state of things, your business is to help in the work."

FINE SADDLERS AND ROADSTERS.

These Are the Horses That Always Command Good Prices—The Noted Bourbon Chief.

A recent issue of the Chicago Breeders' Gazette contained a handsome illustration of the champion gaited saddle mare Emily, owned by General John B. Castleman, of Louisville. Emily was exhibited by her owner at the great World's Fair last fall. It was her first appearance in the show ring, and she won in her class and was awarded the championship of the section, being "the tower of strength in the group of stallions, mares and geldings with which General Castleman and his sons made a winning fight for the cup offered by the National Saddle-Horse Breeders' Association," says the Gazette. Emily was afterwards exhibited at the great horse show at Madison Square Garden, New York City, and again won over a big field of competitors. A writer says "a handsomer mare never gained the plaudits of the assembled multitude." That she deserves all this, is evidenced by the fact that General Castleman has refused an offer of $2,000 for her.

But, now to the point. This great premium winner, Emily, was sired by the noted Bourbon Chief. Bourbon Chief is a famous premium winner himself, having carried off more blue ribbons probably than any other stallion in the United States. He has won wherever exhibited, and it is but natural that his get should prove to be prize winners and should command big money in the markets.

Bourbon Chief made the season of 1893 at Mr. J. F. Walton's stables near Germantown, and it will be good news to the breeders of Mason County to know that Mr. Walton has made arrangements to have this noted horse in his stud again this year. Bourbon Chief will make the season of 1894 at Mr. Walton's stables.

General Castleman, who by the way is President of the National Saddle-Horse Breeders' Association, has already notified Mr. Walton that he will send a number of mares to his stock farm this year to be bred to Bourbon Chief.

Mr. Walton believes that there is more money in fine saddlers and roadsters than in any other class of horses. They always command fancy prices; there is always a good market for them. For this reason, he is giving his attention to this class of horses, and has aimed to secure the best blood. In addition to Bourbon Chief, his fine stallion King Le Grand will make the season of 1894 at his stables.

The breeders of Mason and adjoining counties should take advantage of the opportunities offered them by Mr. Walton. They will make no mistake in breeding to Bourbon Chief and King Le Grand.

TORNADO policies—W. R. Warder, agt.

Mrs. M. J. McCarthy.

Death Claims a Noble Christian Woman, and Leaves a Happy Home Shrouded in Sorrow.

Seldom has the writer been called upon to record a sadder death than that which occurred this morning.

At the hour of 4 o'clock Mrs. Kate Teresa McCarthy, wife of the junior proprietor of the BULLETIN, yielded up her spirit to the One who gave it. Peacefully, as a child sinking into a sweet sleep, did the end come.

Deceased had been lingering in the very shadow of the grave for several days. Faithful nursing and the skill of physicians proved of no avail in her case, as it has in many others. Last evening there was a change for the worse, and this morning at the hour named she peacefully breathed her last, surrounded by her loved ones. Puerperal fever was the cause of her death.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. John J. Kane, and was thirty-one years of age on the 9th of last November. She leaves four children, all sons—the youngest but two weeks old. The sympathy of the community goes out to the husband in his sorrow and great loss and to his little ones bereft so early in life of a devoted mother's tender love and care.

A devout member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church all her life, deceased illustrated in her daily walk the gentleness and love of the blessed Master. No one ever had a warmer place in the hearts of her friends than she, and the news of her death will bring sincere sorrow to all who knew her.

The funeral will occur at St. Patrick's Church at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Interment at Washington.

All kinds of Monumental work done in the best manner. Second street, above opera house.

WAR STILL RAGING IN BRAZIL.
The Insurgent Warships Continue the Bombardment of Rio Janeiro.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 27.—Dispatches from Rio Janeiro say that an incessant fire is kept up between the insurgent warships and the government forts, and that much damage has been done to Coceiro island. The insurgents are trying to cut off Rio's water supply.

It is reported also that torpedoes have been placed around the fortress of Santa Cruz.

Two cases of suspected yellow jack have been discovered aboard the mail steamer Tagus here.

Expecting the Great Battle.

New York, Jan. 27.—The Herald's special dispatch from Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 26, says a correspondent in Rio sends word that a great battle will soon be fought between the federal and government forces. The latter are commanded by General Hipolito. All that the federals need are horses, which, it is expected, will soon reach them. A detachment of 85 rebels, who were marching to join General Tavares, were met by the government forces and all were slaughtered.

Authentic telegrams have been received announcing that an army of 6,000 federals, commanded by Generals Tavares, Cabeda and Ulisses Reverberi, have taken the border town of San Juan Bautista. The inhabitants, fearing a repetition of the excesses committed in Bage, fled from the town in terror.

LOOKS LIKE FOUL PLAY.

A Man's Dead Body Was Found in a Small Tank of Water.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 27.—Joe Anselm was missed from the hide, leather and belting factory where he was employed and search for him began. It was not successful for over 24 hours, when a boy went to the basement, where there was a three-foot tank half full of water. A board, which was part of the lid, was off, and the lad looked into the tank and saw what appeared to be a bundle of rags.

Upon investigation the rags were found to be the clothing of Joe Anselm's dead body.

The body was larger than the opening in the lid. Joe had either forced himself into the box and deliberately drowned himself in the shallow water or had been thrust in. He was well-to-do German.

Murder and Suicide.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 27.—Details have reached here of a brutal murder at Encinal, south of here. A Mexican named Valdene fell in love with a pretty Mexican girl named Miss Josefa Trivino. She rejected him, and later he called her to her door, shot her three times, twice after she fell dying, and then, in an attempt to commit suicide, blew his face off. He is in jail, but will die.

The chances are that Brown will die of his wounds.

Khedive Humbled.

CAIRO, Jan. 27.—The khedive has published an order praising the English and Egyptian officers, and it is understood that Mahr Pasha is to be transferred from the ministry of war to some other post. It is thus understood that Lord Cromer has triumphed and that the khedive bows once more to the dictation of England.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 27.—United States secret service officers made an important capture of counterfeitors. Alois Fentman of Brooklyn, August Nederland and one or two others whose names are unknown, had a regular mint for the manufacture of coins. The counterfeitors in the manufacture of 10-cent, 25-cent and 50-cent pieces did not use any spurious metal. They used sterling silver, and the coin was the same weight as that of the government money.
